The Global Head & Neck Oncology Summit-2026 at Yashoda Hospitals, Hitech City, Hyderabad, is a premier international platform dedicated to advancing knowledge, innovation, and collaboration in the diagnosis and management of head and neck cancers. This high-impact international meeting will bring together eminent national and international experts to deliberate on the latest advances in surgical oncology, radiation therapy, medical oncology, reconstruction, precision oncology, and survivorship care.

In an era where the global burden of head and neck cancers continues to rise, this summit serves as a vital bridge - uniting world-class expertise with regional clinical realities to redefine patient outcomes through multidisciplinary synergy.

Dr. Chinnababu Sunkavalli is a distinguished surgical oncologist and a pioneer in advanced robotic cancer surgery. With his extensive national and international experience, he has been at the forefront of complex head & neck cancer management, organ preservation strategies, and reconstructive oncology. His leadership and vision form the foundation of this prestigious global academic initiative.

SCIENTIFIC FACULTY

The conference will feature an eminent panel of national and international faculty, including:

- Renowned Head & Neck Surgical Oncologists
- Radiation & Medical Oncologists
- Experts in Reconstructive Surgery
- Pathologists, Radiologists & Oral Surgeons
- AI Technology Experts

The scientific program is designed to promote cross-disciplinary learning, encourage knowledge exchange and foster collaborative approaches to innovation in head and neck oncology.

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

- To present latest evidence-based advances in head & neck oncology
- To promote multidisciplinary tumor board - based treatment planning
- To enhance skills in complex surgical and reconstructive techniques
- To discuss robotic, minimally invasive, and precision oncology approaches
- To improve functional outcomes, rehabilitation, and survivorship care
- To encourage research, collaboration, and academic excellence
